A New Look For Tolleston

This is the world of 1960. To conform to its ever changing progress, Tolleston has taken on a new look. Just as changes in American life reshape our automobiles, changes in our school have led to the reshaping of our buildings. A new modernized size, shape, and interior was built to meet the needs and demands of Tolleston's growing school enrollment.

Although our buildings have been axpanded and improved, our Tolleston students haven't changed. At school, there is the same familiar rush, enthusiasm, clubs, and friendships. The spirit of the school has not been affected, the students know that this is their school, old and new, and they are proud of it.

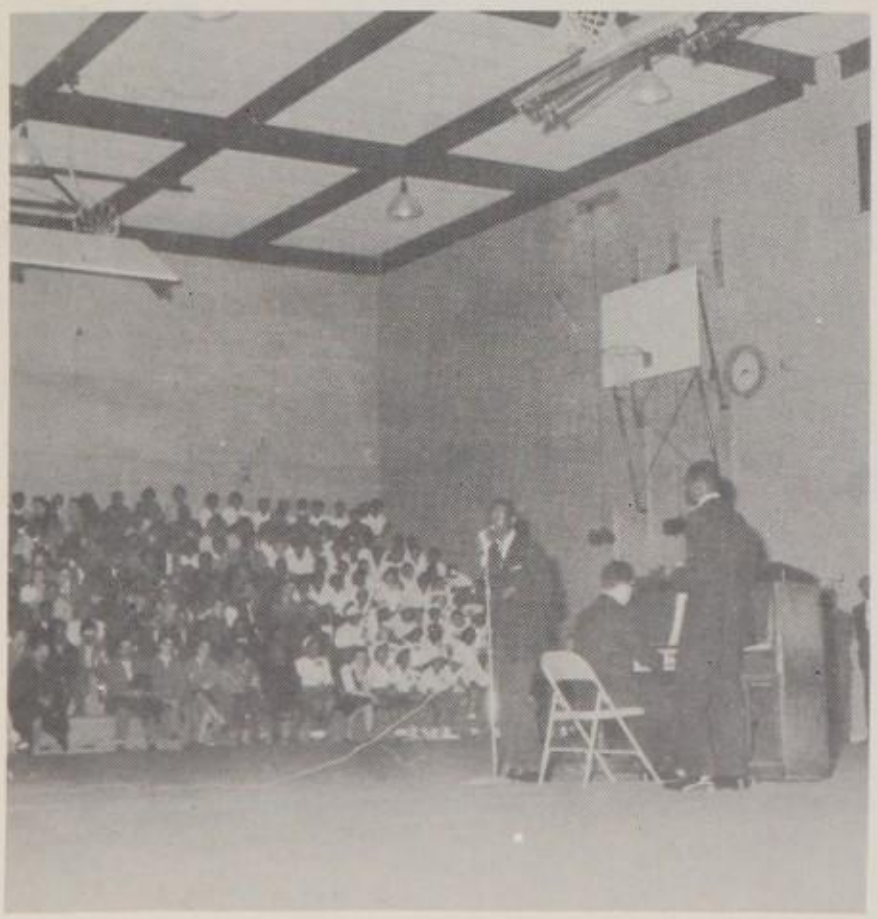
Work And Play Make

It's been a busy day!



The talent show proved to be a big success.

Mr. Lehocky is always ready to help.

Up School Life

Before the completion of the new science building, Mr. Moore's class met on the football field.

Sophomores are anxious to order their class rings.

A walk through the park is part of the school day of many students.

The band and the Girls' Glee Club combine their talents for the Band Concert.

Activities Provide

Jump Royal!

Diane Bulza finds the shelves in the new library a little too high.

Students who have been absent make up a test.

Happy Memories

Mr. Di Pasquale seems pleased with the success of the Tolleston Science Fair.

Safe-teens make a mad rush out of the parking lot after school.

These girls must be having an interesting conversation!

"We want a basket now..."

Studies And Fun

What's at the bottom of this?

Some of the senior girls could give our football team serious opposition.

Watch out, Vince!

Many Tolleston students make church attendance a regular activity.

Keep Us Busy

Many of the seniors went out to dinner after their class party.

Say, man - - some "Tolleston beatniks"!

Parties are fun!

Tolleston feet take many important steps.

Homecoming Highlights

Standing in heart formation, the band serenades the happy girls with "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Football Season

Everyone seems to be looking for something. Could it be the ball, boys?

Since homecoming is the highlight of football season, it doesn't take long for the enthusiasm to spread throughout the whole school. A pep session began this year's homecoming weekend. This was followed by a hectic rush to gather wood and boxes for the bonfire Thursday evening. The students gathered on the baseball field, to watch the blazing fire and cheer the team on to victory.

The homecoming game was played against Valparaiso on Friday, October 16. Though we were losing, the crowd remained in high spirits throughout the game.

Just as homecoming is the highlight of football season, the crowning of the homecoming queen is the highlight of the homecoming ceremonies. A new method was used in selecting this year's queen - the candidates had to sell tickets. The girl who sold the largest number of tickets was chosen to reign over the festivities.

After a beautiful half-time exibition by the band and the majorettes, Carole Sebben, the top salesgirl, was crowned queen. Sharon Williams, Hanna Guip, Grace Engel, and Sarah O'Neal made up her court. The girls were driven around the field in convertibles as the band played "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Shirley Johanson, one of the majorettes, followed with a fiery baton-twirling act. The annual homecoming dance was held after the game as a perfect ending to a hectic weekend.

Our first touchdown touches off the spirit of the crowd.

The bonfire burns brightly the night before the game.

Seniors "Remember When"

Seniors recall memories of the years gone by at their last class party.

Since this was their last class party, the seniors tried to make it one that they would always remember. The theme of the party, "Remember When," was carried out by decorations which commemorated the class parties of the years gone by. As they walked into the gym, the seniors first saw a giant swing, surrounded by multi-colored flowers, and they remembered their first class party, "Swing into Spring." A wishing well, castles, and a glittering star hanging from the ceiling brought back happy memories of "When You Wish Upon a Star," while an Eiffel Tower, recalled "An Evening in Paris," the junior prom. Reluctantly, the seniors turned towards the last wall, where they saw graduation caps and diplomas. All their wonderful memories became part of the past again, and the Class of Sixty began to look ahead to a bright future.

Most high school students, at one time or another, seem to be floating around on a pink cloud. This was especially true for the Tolleston Juniors on the date of their class party. A ceiling of two huge pink clouds, made of crepe paper and angel hair, and a glittering 61, held up by two blackbirds, carried out the theme, "On Cloud 61."

Thinking of the day when they will proudly be able to wear their class rings, the school spirited sophomores chose "Sunburst in Spring" as a theme for their class party. They danced the evening away beneath a web of blue and white crepe paper. Numerous "Tolly" school emblems and large "62's" decorated the gym walls and hung from the ceiling, further reminding them of the day when they will be upperclassmen.

At Their Last Class Party

Juniors are dancing under pink clouds.

Judging by their expressions, the sophomores seem to be enjoying their class party.

Worthy Students Attain Honors

Each year, students who have distinguished themselves receive special recognition.

The American Legion and its auxiliary sponsored five girls and three boys to attend Boys' and Girls' States. These students, chosen mainly for scholarship and character, learned how our government operates by running for various offices and then carrying out their respective duties.

The D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award was presented by the Daughters of the American Revolution to an outstanding senior girl. She was selected for her citizenship qualities. Also, two senior boys were selected as Junior Rotarians. They attended luncheons with Gary businessmen throughout the year to learn more about business activities.

The Quill and Scroll, an honor society for journalist students, gave special recognition to several members of the publication staff.

Members of the Quill and Scroll are Joe Perko, Sandra Popiela, and Jerrie Powell.

Delphine Konopacki, Jerrie Powell, Hanna Guip, Donna Daronatsy, and Shirley Johanson were the Girls' State delegates.

Dan Wick, John Lamfalusi, and Mickey Chestovich recall memories of Boys' State.

Junior Rotarians are John Lamfalusi and Joe Perko.

Hanna Guip was selected D. A. R Good Citizen.

Honor Society Is Organized

The National Honor Society was organized in 1921 by the Secondary Schools Principals Association to honor students for high academic achievements. Tolleston's Ernie Pyle Chapter began in the spring of 1959, with Miss Anna Marsh as its sponsor.

This year, the Honor Society started their activities under the guidance of Miss Edith Wallace, their new sponsor. They acted as hosts during National Education Week and participated in the selection of an American citizen to the Hall of Fame for Great Americans. The year's activities drew to a close with the induction of new members, who were chosen for scholarship, service, character, and leadership.

Honor Society officers are Doug Frank, treasurer; Shirley Johanson, vice-president; John Lamfalusi, president; and Delphine Konopacki, secretary.

We'll Have These

Hanna Guip and Andy Onder and Cynthia Tiernan and Alan Nugnis are greeted at the door by Miss Wallace and Miss Sacopulos.

"An Evening In Paris"

On the evening of June 5, 1959, the Marquette Park Pavilion was transformed into the magic city of Paris. The old jalopies which could usually be seen in the school parking lot were now shiny new cars, and the young ladies and gentlemen who emerged from them only faintly resembled the students we saw walking through Tolleston's halls every day.

Boys in tuxedos and girls in fluttering formals could be seen dancing to the music of John Nolan and his orchestra. The dance drew to a close much too soon, but the memory of a magical "Evening in Paris" lingered in everyone's memories for quite some time.

Moments To Remember . . .

Joe Perko, Hanna Guip, and Mary Wallace look on as Bob Trzeciak tries on his gown.

Several seniors are busily looking through college catalogues

As the band begins to play the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance," a hush falls over the huge Memorial Auditorium. The seniors march down the aisle and onto the stage, where they will stand together for the last time. With mixed emotions, the class sings "You'll Never Walk Alone," and one can see both smiles and tears.

The magic words, "Class of 1960, you are now graduated," close a very important door in our lives, but they also open the doors of the future. Behind these doors lie many responsibilities, disappointments, and rewards, which will have to be taken into stride. The Class of Sixty has set its goals high, and it will live up to them.

Graduation is one of the most memorable events in our lives.

English Skills Are Necessary

Al seems reluctant to let Mrs. Moffatt examine his "literary masterpiece."

Junior English students learn through discussion groups.

The speech classes master the art of public speaking.

English knowledge is indispensable to the publications staff.

In Foreign Language Study

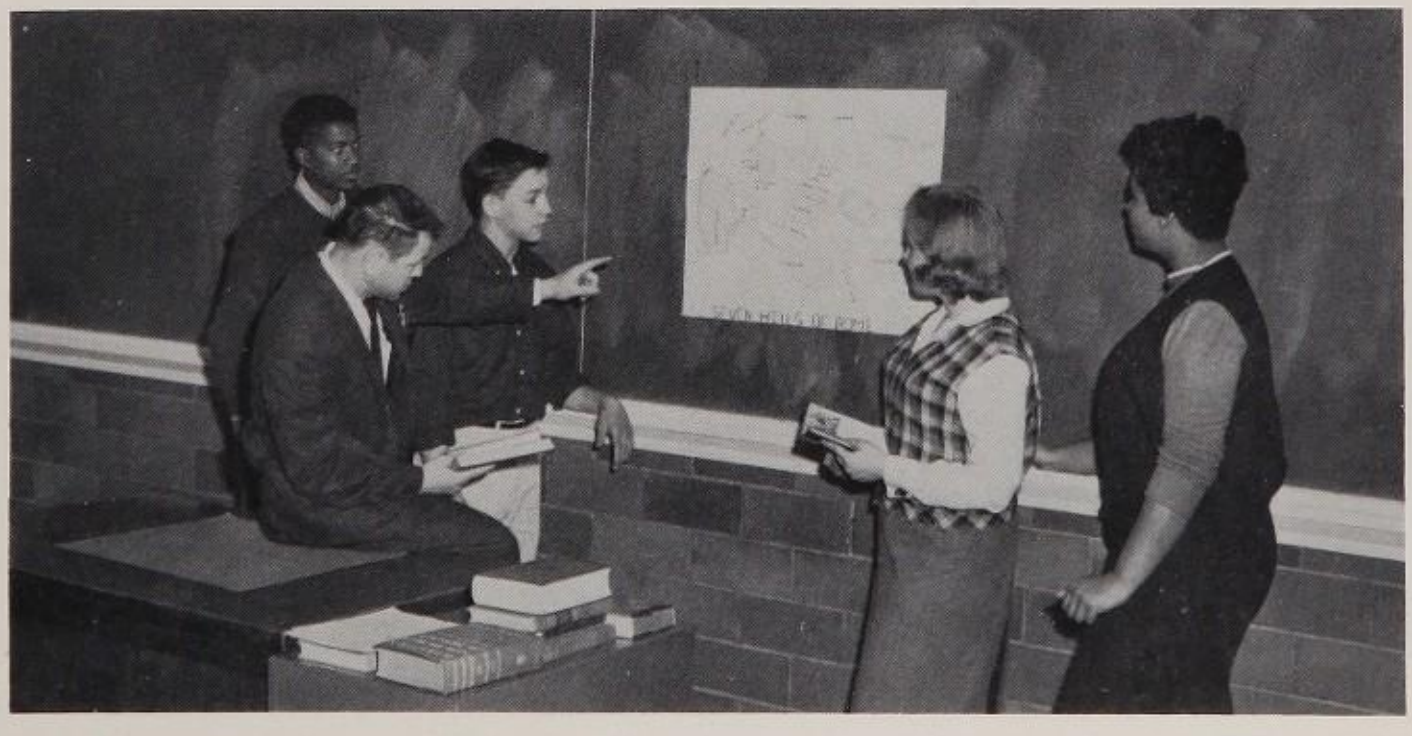
German students gather around the piano to sing "O Tannenbaum."

Language is the basis of all human relationships; therefore, we must learn to use it correctly, The ability to speak and to write well is essential for success in many fields.

A study of the works of great writers is one of the best ways to learn to write well. It enables students to express their thoughts clearly and, at the same time, appreciate the beauty of their own language.

The study of foreign languages also helps us to better understand our own languages. This year, German, taught by Miss Marsh, was added to the curriculum. By studying this new language, along with Latin and Spanish, Tolleston students can gain a better understanding of other lands and their cultures.

Spanish students, too, enjoy singing songs in class.



Mr. Elliott points out the seven hills of ancient Rome to his Latin students.

History Broadens Horizons

Through the study of History we learn about everything that has happened in the past.

World History makes students aware of the problems in foreign lands, while U. S. History provides us with the growth of our own nation.

Seniors take a semester of both U. S. Government and Economics. In this way, they learn to take an active part in politics, and also to live in an economic world in a sensible way.

Randy points out the course of a bill to a U. S. Government class.

U. S. History students brighten up the bulletin board with colored maps of our country's territorial expansion.

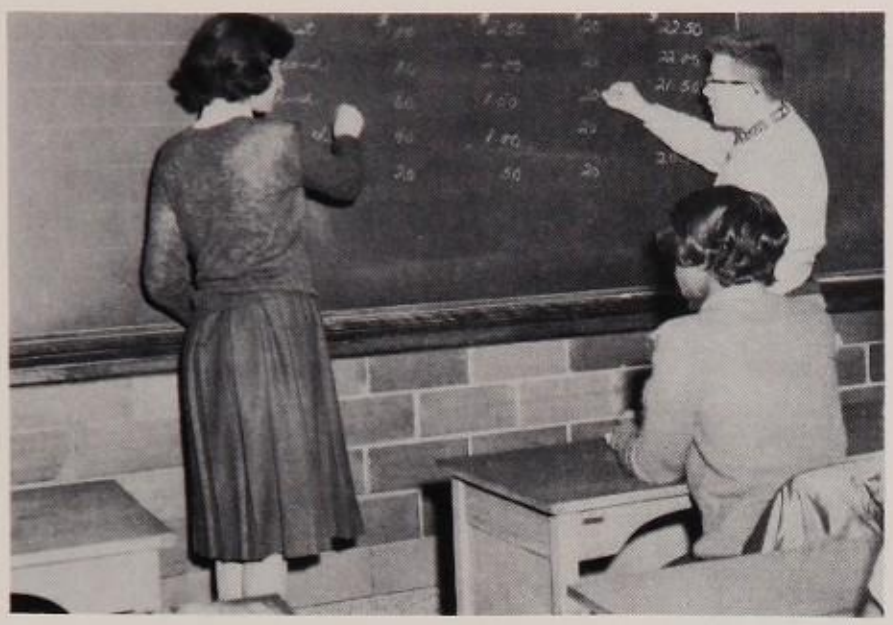
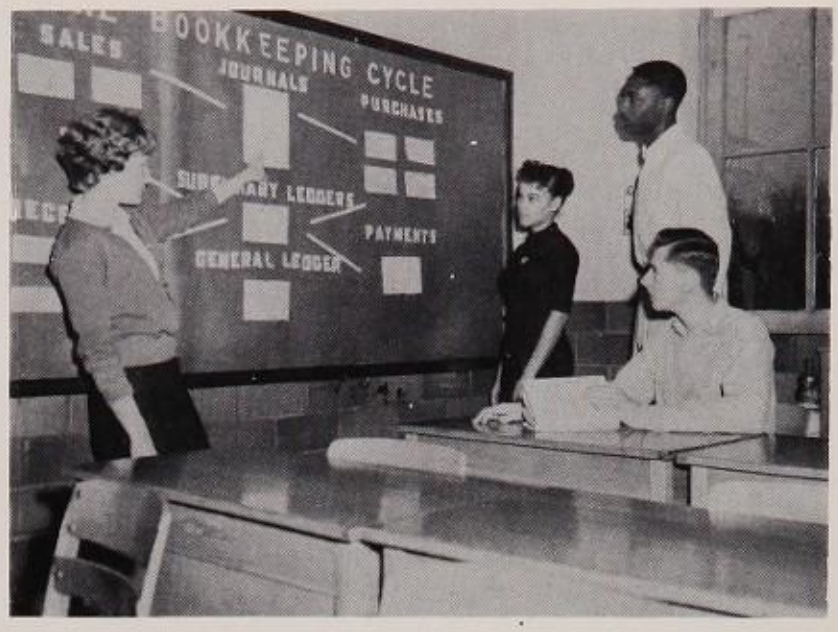
Clyde seems to be selling stock to his Economics class.

Future Secretaries Receive Training



Marilyn Montorsi and James Gholston show their ability to solve Commercial Math problems.



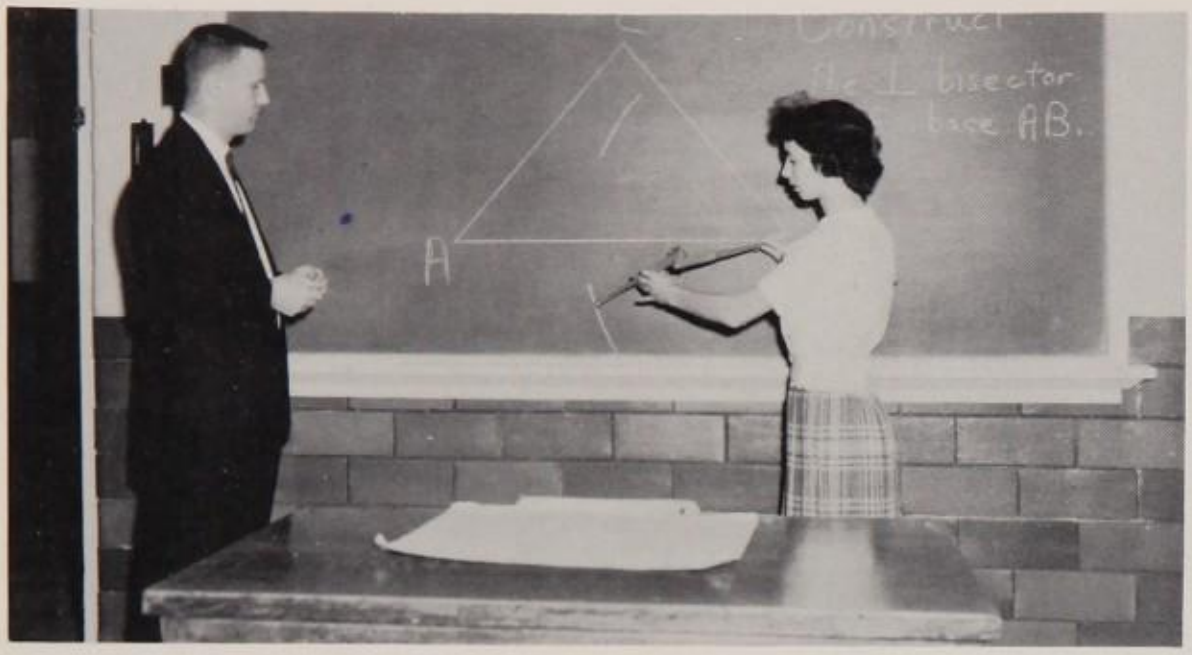
Janice Doborowsky explains bookkeeping cycle to Frank Essig, Mardell Davis, and Robert Holden.

For every student interested in a business career, courses in shorthand, typing, bookkeeping, and business math are offered. Each subject trains students to become competent business personnel and responsible citizens.

Mrs. Leek dictates to the future secretaries of America.

First year typing class eagerly begins assignment.

Math Builds New Age



Mr. Cavanaugh supervises, while Joan Kisylia bisects a triangle.

Solving graph problems is easy for these Advanced Algebra students.

As one of the three R's 'Rithmetic, or Mathematics as it is better known, is a basic and important study for all Tolleston students. Our general math classes learn the general rules and necessary fundamentals for working everyday problems. In Algebra, Geometry, and Trig. students learn advanced and specialized procedures for working problems involving graphs, equations, spheres, and right triangles. Mathematics is a foundation for our society, with an increased knowledge of it we are able to further ourselves and our country.

Algebra students find graphing an interesting field.

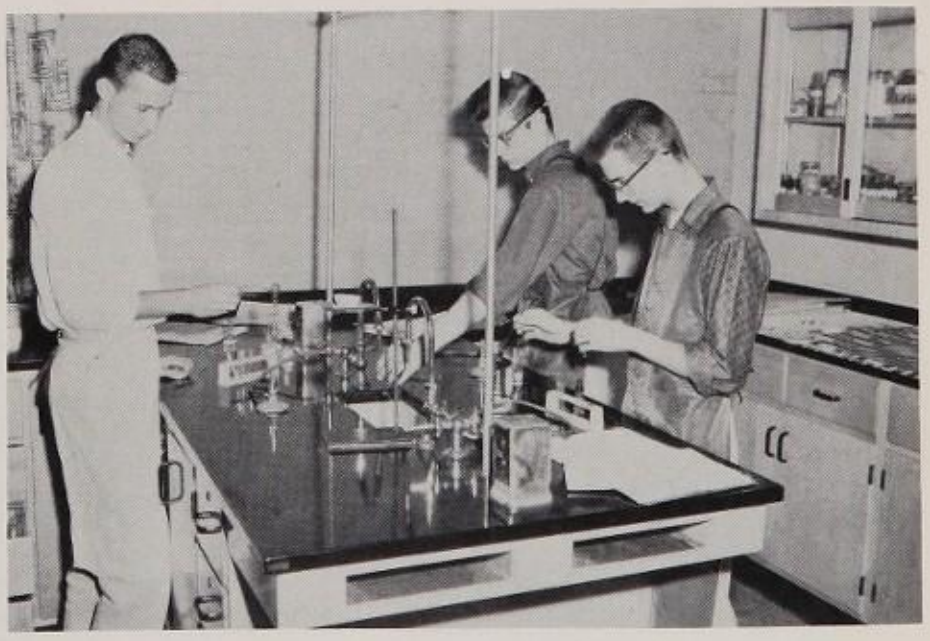
Science Unfolds Nature's Secrets

Chemistry class is always a beehive of activity.

Students interested in science can find a varied field of courses ranging from studies of plants and animals on the earth to the elements and chemicals which make up the earth. A good knowledge of science is very essential in this world of nuclear weapons and space missiles. The students at Tolleston realize this. Students of chemistry do everything from balancing equations to copying lab books while those in biology study the living side of science. Students interested in physics are able to learn the development of machines and the control of energies that help make our lives easier.

Three future chemists work hard on a new experiment.

Working with grams and kilograms is quite different from working with the familiar ounces and pounds.



Biology always proves to be an interesting class.

Students Apply

Students work industriously at the drafting tables.

Wood Shop students concentrate on their projects.

Fashion Designers in the making.

Home nursing, studying and resting.

Projects in plastics, perhaps?

What They Learn

Students who work in the arts classes apply their knowledge of the academic subjects to construct many useful objects. They are taught the use of power and hand tools in the many shops here at Tolleston and find how to improve their talents in the fine art classes.

The arts classes cover a project from the drawing board through to the finished product which may be constructed of either wood, leather, plastic, or metal, or a combination of these materials. Other students learn arts which may be applied to the home, these include sewing, cooking, and home nursing.

Four more metal rods in the making.

Future dieticians at work.

Ah, food! Homemaking is fun.

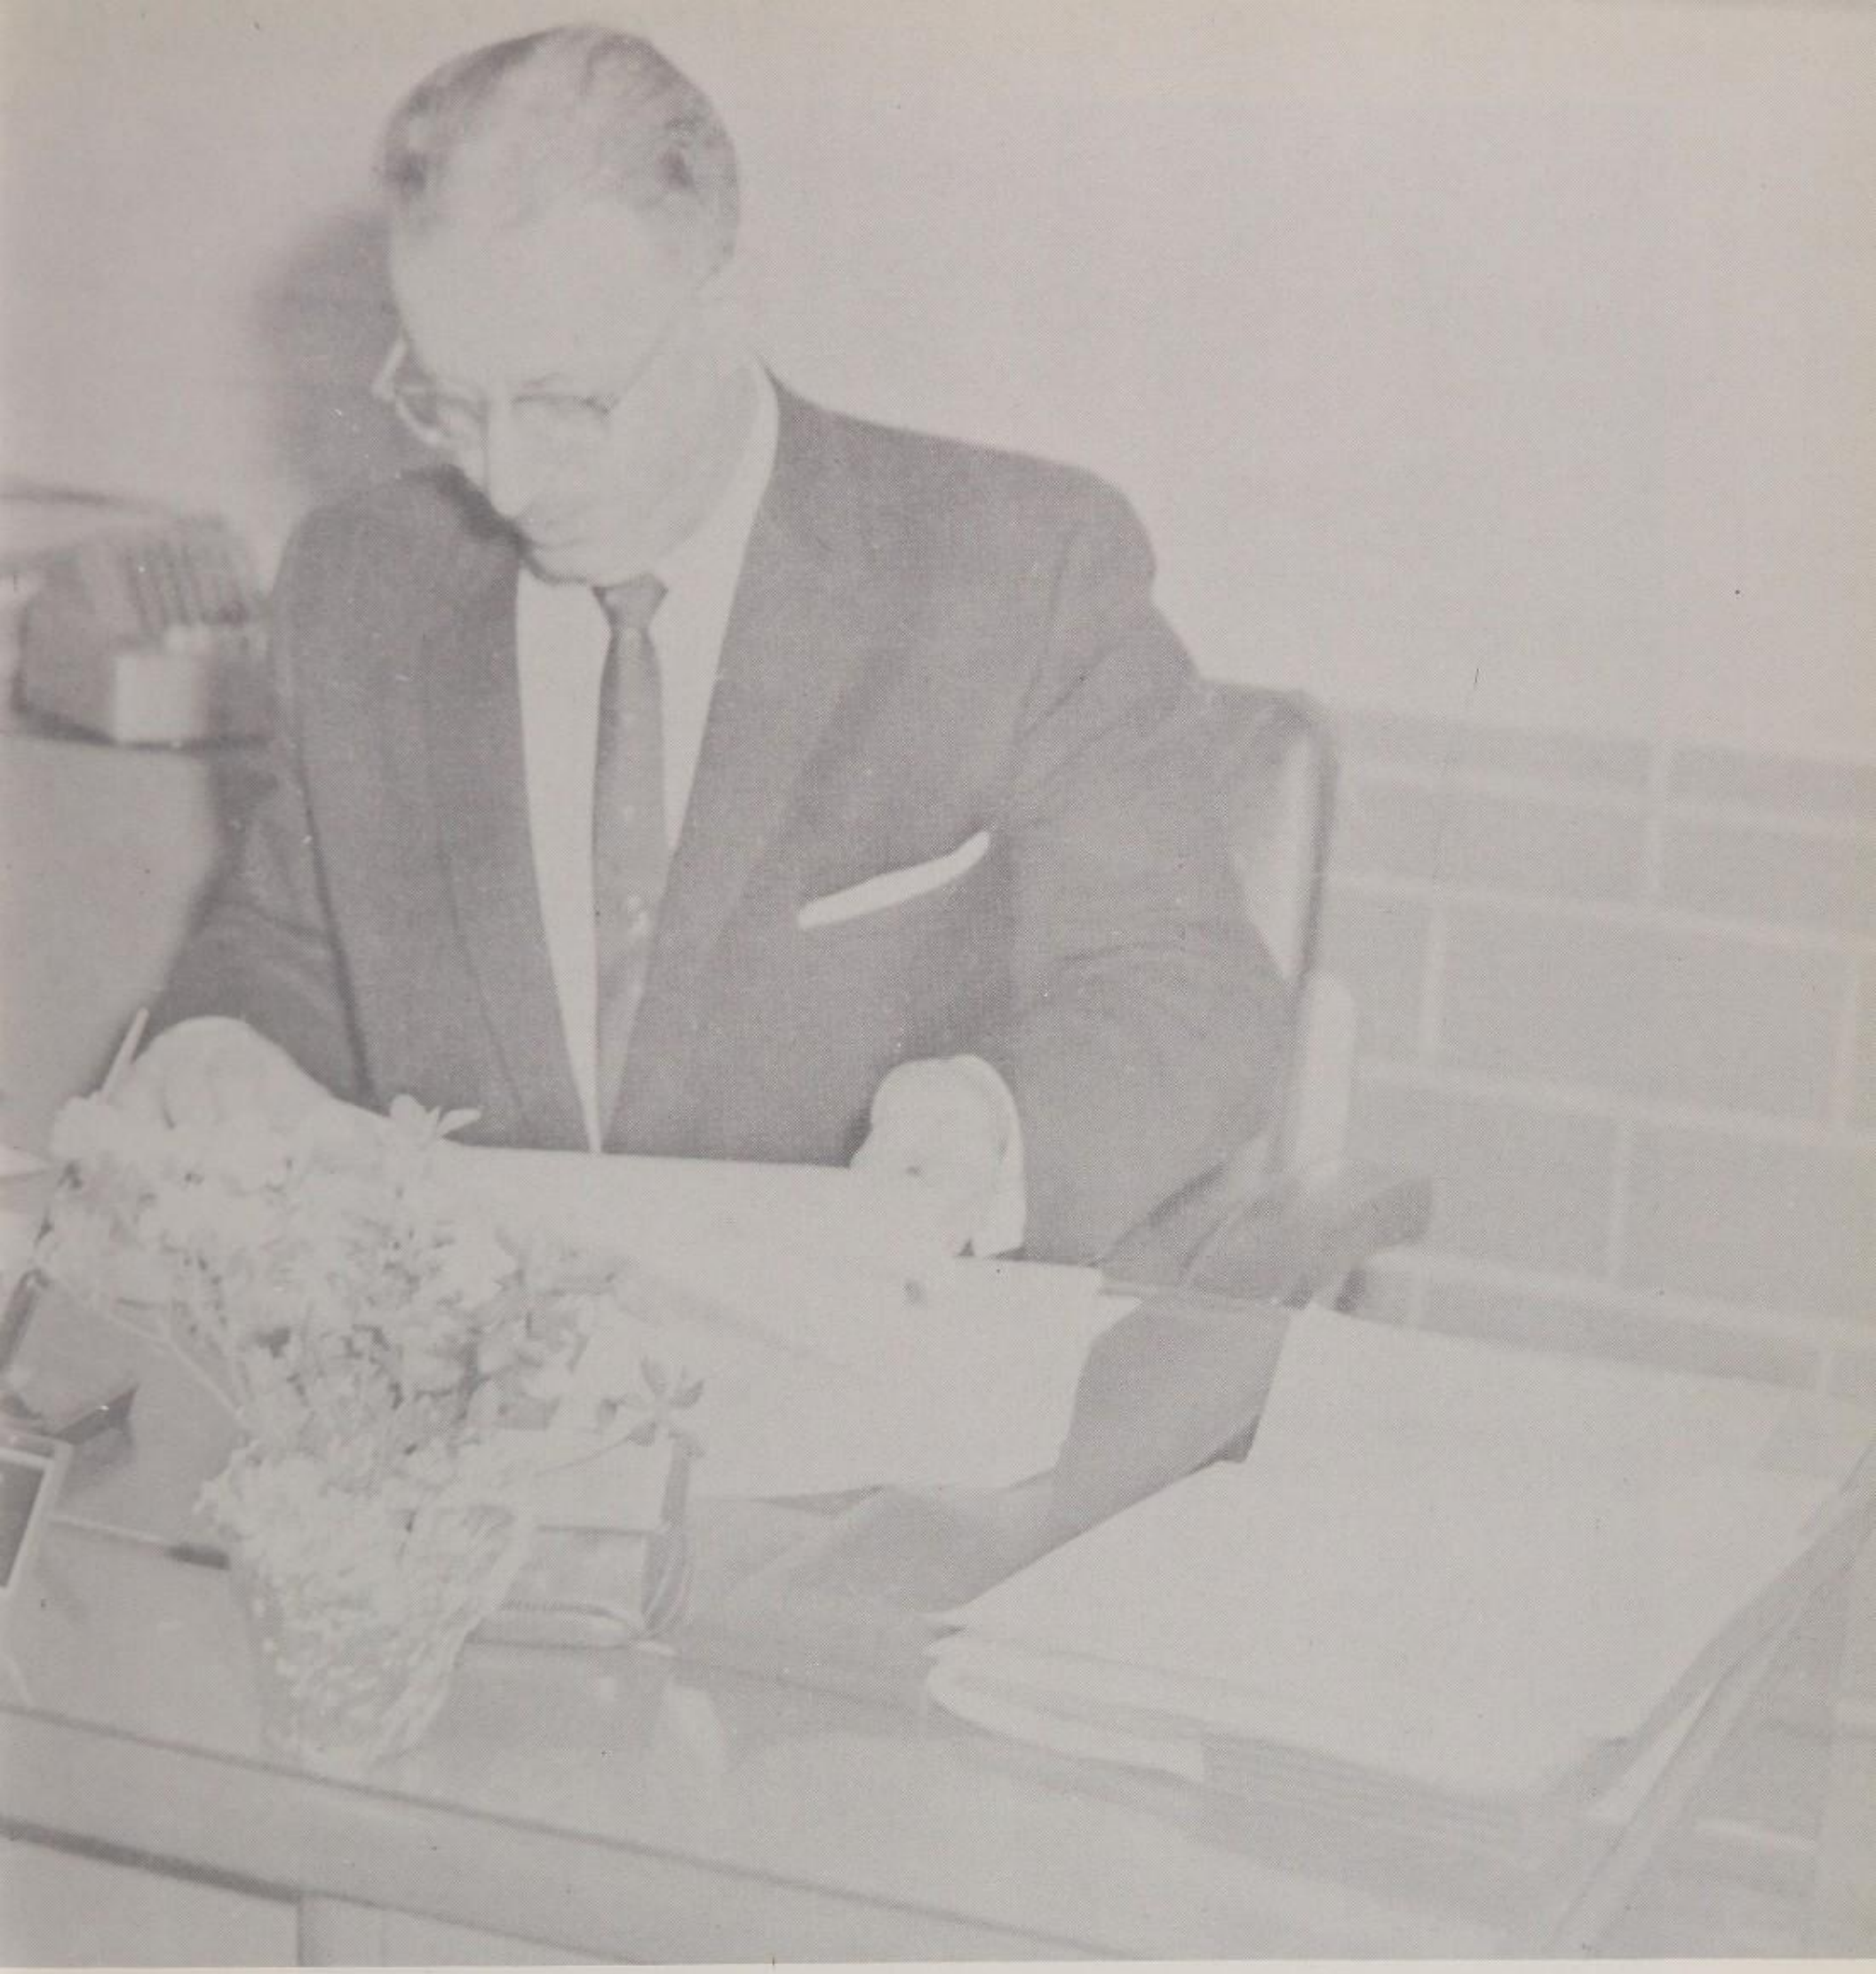
Studying today, artist tomorrow.

The newest look in our school administration is Mr. Richard Carrabine, the assistant principal. He, and our competent principal, Mr. DiPasquale, have ably guided and assisted our students to greater advancements in learning and character.

The Gary Board of Education, under the leadership ot Dr. Alden Blankenship, has co-operated fully to improve educational standards in Tolleston as well as other Gary area schools.

The new science and shop rooms, not only enabled our teachers to better train the future scientists and machinists of our country, but they also helped greatly to relieve crowded classrooms and halls. The new gym served to bring the student body and administrators together in better understanding and harmony.

ADM



INISTRATION

V. C. DiPasquale

VINCENT C. DIPASQUALE

Principal

Mr. Vincent C. DiPasquale, our competent principal, has ably guided and assisted our students to greater advancements in learning during his two years at Tolleston.

The moral and social conduct of the students has been improved considerably through his constant concern and aid. To have Tolleston students excel in scholarship, manners, and sportsmanship was his principal aim.

Throughout the school, changes were made. Our long awaited science buildings and gym were finally completed. The rooms and halls of the old building have taken on a new appearance. The campus grounds and park have been cleaned and improved. All this can be attributed to our principal.

Good Examples

RICHARD CARRABINE

Assistant Principal

Mr. Richard Carrabine is the capable new assistant principal of Tolleston School. Having served as a teacher of science and mathematics for four years before his appointment, he was familiar with the school's problems and curriculum. Through his patience and understanding, he was able to give direction and assistance to all students who requested his help.

He performed his administrative duties in conjunction with the grade school and high school equally efficiently.

New Buildings Bring

Although the secretaries are very busy, they face their tasks cheerfully.

"Service with a smile" was the motto of the girls in the office. They helped the students with making program changes, returning lost articles, and collecting book rental. Their secretarial duties-typing, filing, taking dictation, and answering the telephones-were performed cheerfully.

Mrs. Jones, Miss Skoczen, and Miss Sudroff of the grade school office performed their tasks in a friendly manner. The cooperation of Mrs. Gaski, treasurer; Mrs. Blakey, high school registrar; and Mrs. Stankich, attendance and transcript secretary, was a contributing factor.

Mr. Belle, of the Personnel Department, was a man with many duties. Besides checking and following up on absentees and truants, he was able to advise students on social and financial problems.

Miss Platt, our nurse, attended to the needs of all students.

Mr. Belle, head of the Pupil Personnel Department, is busy making telephone calls.

Greater Office Tasks

Mrs. Grace Blakey, Mrs. Dorothy Gaski, and Mrs. Connie Stankich, high school office secretaries, are busy working on the financial records.

Mrs. Bernadette Fissinger and Mr. Lynn Lowe, Guidance Counselors, are discussing prospective colleges for students to attend.

The new nurse, Miss Beverly Platt, prepares a bandage for an injured student.

P. T. A. Expands Membership

The Parent-Teachers Association is one of the most worthwhile organizations at Tolleston. Its main objective has been to promote the welfare and maintain harmony in the home, school, church, and community.

Always keeping their minds open and free from "outside influences," this association has been helpful in meeting the problems and needs of our school.

A main attraction of the monthly meetings was a guest speaker, Dr. Brogno, of the Lake County Mental Health Clinic.

Members of the P.T.A. enjoy refreshments after the meeting.

School Board Approves Funds

Doctor Blankenship, school superintendent, is shown with Doctor Gunning, his assistant.

The Gary Public School Administration composed of civic-minded citizens, has the responsibility of controlling the entire Gary School System's policies and problems.

This year the School Board approved the necessary funds so that a new elementary school could be built for Tolleston. As a result of this, Tolleston will become exclusively a Junior and Senior high school.

Construction of the school began in January and is expected to be completed by next year.

Teachers Encourage

"To enable to do; to show how to perform some action" - this is the dictionary's definition of teaching. In addition to instructing us in performing the fundamental actions of mathematics, reading, and writing, our teachers encourage us to "point the way in scholarship, dress, manners, and citizenship."

By sponsoring worthwhile student organizations, conducting field trips, chaperoning social activities, and giving that little extra minute of attention, our teachers show us that they are interested in us and in the betterment of our school.

For these things we say, thank you, faculty, administration, and school board for your sincere endeavors to enable us to do and to perform as good citizens.

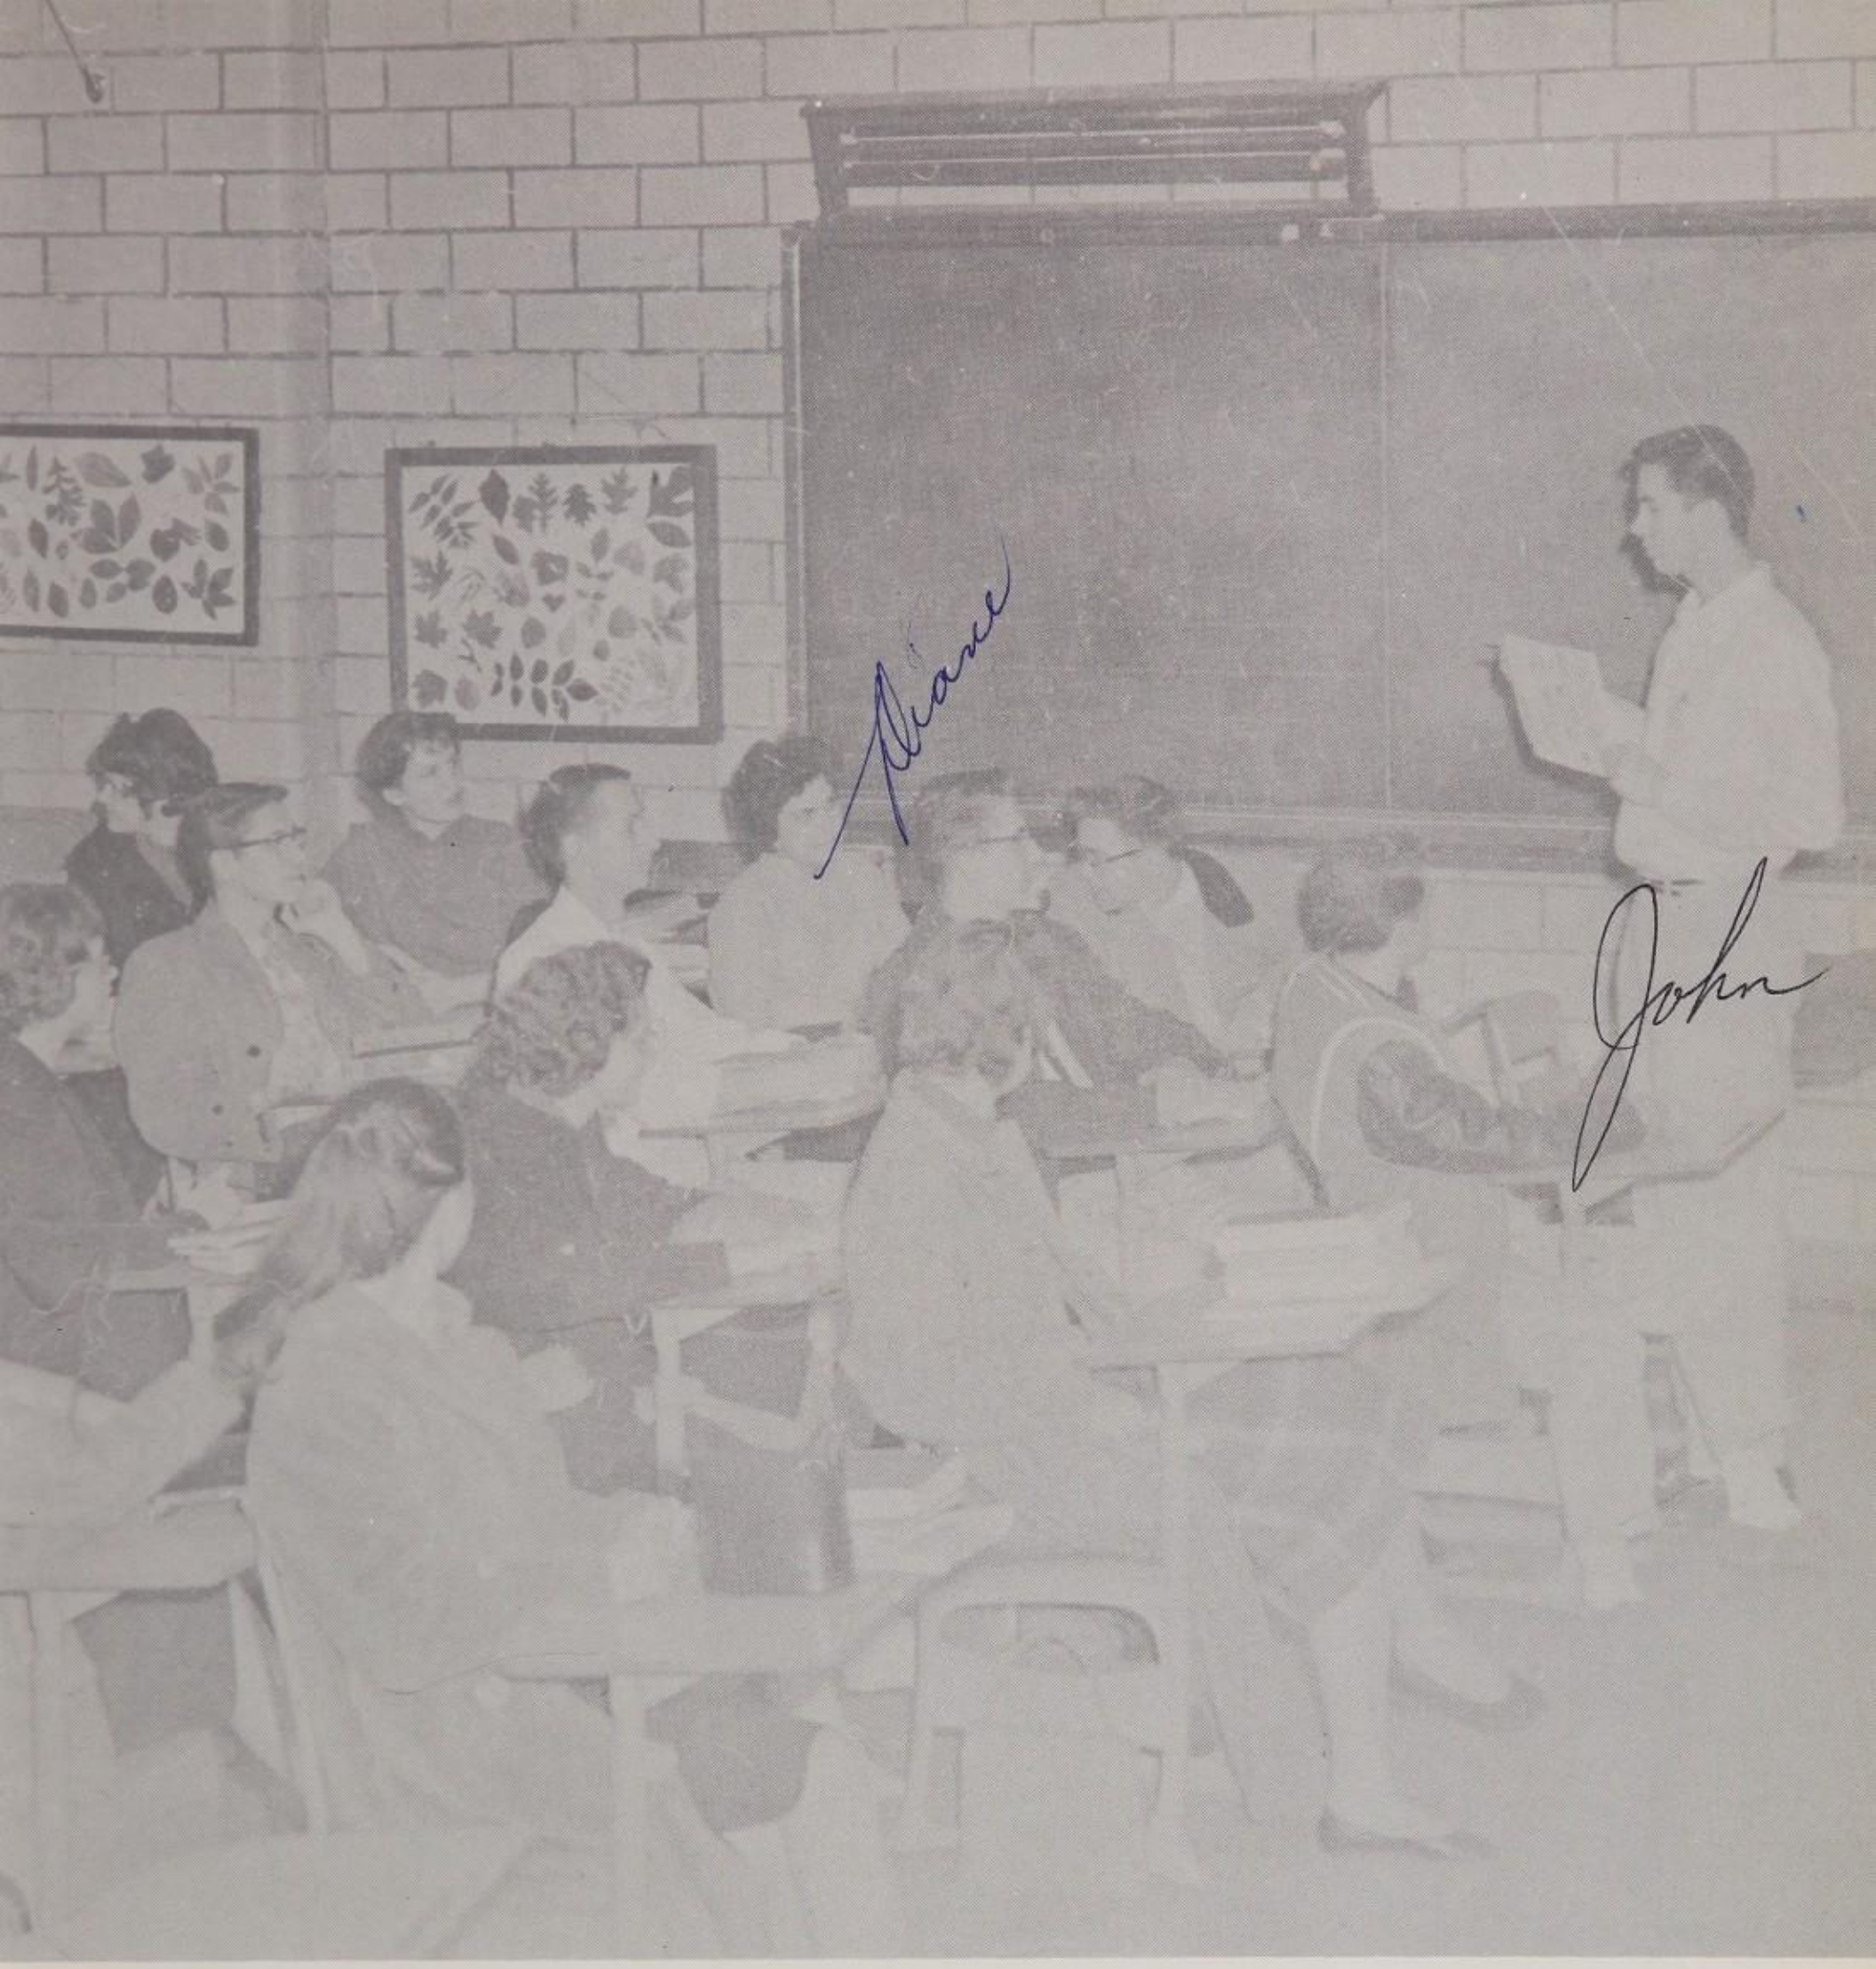
As this year's Senior Class walk down the aisle as graduates, they will be remembering their high school years and the events which helped pattern their lives.

This first prom, class parties, basketball games at the new gym, club activities, all of these and more will flash back through their memories. There will be mixed emotions of regret and hope; regret that they will be leaving their school and friends, and hope that their futures will hold both happiness and success.

Due to the new changes that took place this past year, our seniors enjoyed many privileges and entertainments that never before existed.

Whether they become doctors, lawyers, nurses, or housewives, the seniors will never forget Tolleston and the many wonderful times had throughout their four high school years.

SEN



IORS

John and Shirley

The senior class officers are Walter Czarnecki, treasurer; Donna Daronatsy, vice-president; Shirley Johanson, secretary; and Albert Knezevich, president.

Senior Class History

As we leave Tolleston, we look forward to a new and exciting part of our lives. The past four years, however, will always remain in our memories.

Mickey Chestovich, Bill Dulla, Mary Wallace, and Bob Joros led us through our freshman year-the year that opened the door to many new activities. Among the most exciting were our two class parties, along with school clubs and freshman athletics. Sharon Padol, John Lamfalusi, Julia Phillips, and Jackie Bims were our sophomore class officers. We were proud to have Shirley Johanson and Virginia McCullom as majorettes with the band, and equally proud of some of our boys who were playing varsity sports.

This year's spotlight was shared by the choosing of our class rings and our beautiful class party-"When You Wish Upon a Star."

Along with our junior year came the prom-"An Evening in Paris" which we will always remember. Ken Badylak, Dan Wick, Myra Someson, and Ronald Ross led us in the grand march through the Eiffel Tower.

As the year drew to a close, the eight candidates for Girls' and Boys' States were chosen. We were very happy for our candidates-Hanna Guip, Donna Daronatsy, Shirley Johanson, Delphine Konopacki, Jerri Powell, Mickey Chestovich, Dan Wick, and John Lamfalusi.

Seniors at last ! With the help of our class officers-Al Knezevich, Donna Daronatsy, Shirley Johanson, and Walter Czarnecki-we tried to make our last year one we would always remember. Carole Sebben was crowned homecoming queen, and Grace Engel, Sharon Williams, Hanna Guip, and Sarah O'Neal made up the court.

The seniors really stepped into the spotlight this year. Sharon Padol was crowned Football-O-Rama queen. Joe Perko became editor of the PIONEER, Doug Frank became editor of the "Tolly Times," Myra Someson was elected Student Council president, and Hanna Guip was chosen D. A. R. Good Citizen.

Graduation closed the door to our happy high school years, and we must all go separate ways. But no matter how far apart the future takes us, we will have one memory-our wonderful years at Tolleston-to hold us together.

Lead Class Of Sixty

JOHN LAMFALUSI
Valedictorian

SHIRLEY JOHANSON
Salutatorian

The valedictorian of the Class of '60, John Lamfalusi, was graduated with a 4.55 average.

John took a college preparatory course, choosing English, math, history, and science for his majors. His minors were Latin and publications.

Shirley Johanson's 3.85 average brought her the second place in this year's graduating class.

Shirley also took a college preparatory course. English, math, foreign language, and band were her majors, while history, and science were her minors.

ZARYCH, JEAN

Randy,
Here it is — our long awaited night. We've had five there past years. Remember when Norbert Malden was in our Home Room? (And I sat in the back with you two pests.) We've had some crazy times our outings. I was in the water more than the beach. But we had fun. I don't think I'll ever forget (If possible!) See you around sometime. Take it easy and be good. Be good to the girls!

Love,
Phyllis
'60

Randy,

Well, I really don't know what I can say to you that you won't take in the wrong way. You guys in 9-1 sure had a lot of fun, didn't you? Randy though I don't know you a real sharp guy. I hope you'll always be happy.

Love

Carolyn

P. S. Whenever you play basketball remember to have fun as well as play to win.

The new look in underclassmen is, as always, the freshman class. The thrill of being a part of the high school activities, with all their trials and joys was an exciting experience for them.

The prestige of finally becoming upperclassmen and thoughts of the prom fills the minds of all Juniors, while the sophomores only thoughts were centered on their newly-acquired class rings.

Going out for and making the basketball and football teams, receiving letters in G.A.A., studying hard to make good grades in their subjects, are all a part of working toward the honored position of the Senior which is so anxiously awaited.

Extra-curricular activities play an important part in every high school student's life. Clubs and their activities involve many hours of staying after school and hard work on various projects.

At the beginning of the year, the organizations were far from organized. As the affairs were straightened out, Student Council and Concert Band prepared for Homecoming festivities. Then Spatin Club went into full swing as they began making decorations and other preparations for their annual Starlight Fantasy. The Art Club was always ready to help with ideas for themes and decorations.

The new look of Tolleston affected the activities of Science Club and Drama Club. The gym offered members of Drama Club the opportunity to display their talents, while the new science rooms and equipment enabled the Science Club to work with improved scientific methods.

For most club members there seemed to be too many activities and excitement squeezed into too little time.

MRS. MARY KRISKO, Advisor

The PIONEER staff was hard at work throughout the year recording all the events which make up our school year. The planning and organization of our annual began early in September in order to meet the deadline of a new publisher.

Something new has been added this year--staff photographers. They soon became familiar faces around the school since all activity and club pictures were taken by them. These pictures were then developed in our new school darkroom, enabling the staff to receive them faster.

Through long hours of hard work and the combined efforts of the staff, the difficult tasks of laying out pages and taking and cropping pictures were accomplished. In addition to this, copy was written and rewritten to make it concise and clear.

As the last pages were typed, proofread, and shipped to press, the staff sighed in relief and happiness. Mrs. Krisko, due to illness, was unable to work as advisor during the second semester. The PIONEER staff is gratetul to Miss Thompson who assumed the responsibilities during her absence.

The annuals were distributed to the waiting student body at a dance held in June. The efforts put forth by the staff were all forgotten as they watched with pleasure the reactions of the students as they looked over the completed book.

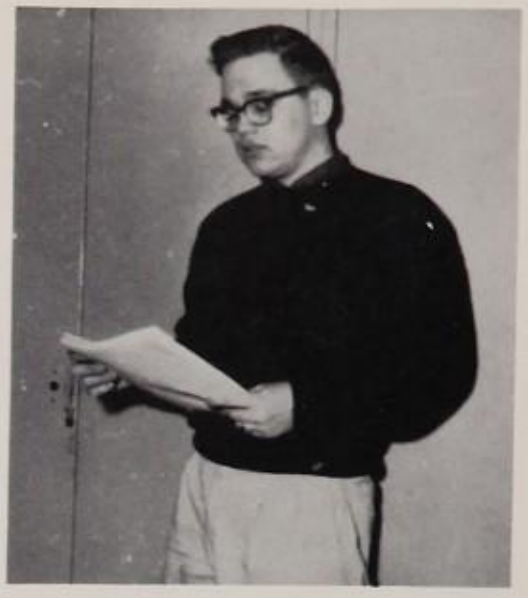
Satisfied students autograph yearbooks at the annual dance which is given for the purpose of passing out the Pioneers.

Tolly Times Staff

Tolly Times Staff discusses articles in paper to eliminate future errors.



DOUG FRANK
Editor-in-Chief

The members of the Tolly Times staff were ever alert to report to the students, faculty, and community news that would be of interest.

The first assignments were those of the reporters who gathered information from the various buildings, wrote it up, and turned in completed stories. Next the above items were proofread and typed on "dummy." Stencils were typed and mimeographing process followed. The entire staff cooperated in producing a neat attractive Tolly Times for your reading.

Barbara Popa, Julia Phillips, Gloria Gillespie, and Suzanne Rhoads receive papers which they are to sell.

Carrying out their duty of representing the student body, the Senior Student Council met every Wednesday morning with their new sponsor, Dr. Martin.

Planning for successful homecoming festivities and decorating the school for the Christmas holidays kept the council busy during the first semester. The policy of publishing a monthly calendar with all important activity dates was resumed.

As the school year drew to a close, the members undertook the responsibility of conducting the elections for next year's class officers.

Sock Hop Attracts Many Students

The first dance to be held in the new Tolleston gymnasium was sponsored by the Senior Student Council. The sock hop, which took the place of the Council Cotillion, was a huge success. The feature of the evening was the selection of the boy and girl with the most originally decorated socks. They were both awarded a prize which, of course, consisted of a pair of socks. Alice Manriquez's feet were covered with little girl's faces, made from colored yarn. Terry Palmateer wore blue and white striped basketball socks, which could easily be seen, for his pant legs were rolled up to his knees. Dancing to records continued until ten o'clock, which marked the close of an evening that everyone was reluctant to end.

Fantasy Proves To Be Huge Success

Spatin Club sponsors, Mr. Gonzales and Mr. Elliott, look through the plans for the coming year.

Spatin Club officers, from bottom to top, are Sharon Padol, president; Myra Someson, vice-president; Shirley Johanson, secretary; Hanna Guip, treasurer; Diane Bulza, art director; Linda Langbehn, social chairman; and Doug Frank, business manager. Not pictured is Lawrence Montgomery, publicity chairman.

Spatin Club is composed of students who are taking, or have previously taken Latin or Spanish. This year's activities began with a dance held after the Tolleston vs. Lew Wallace football game. This was intended to raise funds for the annual Starlight Fantasy, the club's biggest project. The Fantasy was held at the school gym on January 16. Everyone danced to the music of John Baker's Combo. For the first time the gym was transformed into an exotic night club.

At the annual Christmas party, excitement and fun reached a peak as several students frantically tried to break the traditional Spanish pinata and sent candy showering into anxiously waiting hands.

Couples danced the night away in a night club atmosphere.

Several students take time out from dancing to enjoy some refreshments.

A Latin theme was used for this year's Spatin Club's initiation. The new members, attired in Roman costumes, were paraded through the streets of Tolleston. Except for a few lost sandals, everyone arrived at the American Legion in one piece.

The formal candlelight ceremony was held in the school library. Covered with noodles, liver, powder, and perfume, the initiates had reached the climax of the Spatin Club oath after the president. At last they became full-fledged members.

Tolleston's Concert Band proved that practice and hard work bring results with their splendid performances at football games. Playing for the solo and ensemble contest was rewarding for many of the band members who came back with first and second place medals.

An added attraction this year was the band's performances at the basketball games in our new gym. This new attraction added to the school spirit in many ways.

At the annual Spring Concert the students displayed their talents by playing beautiful overtures, marches, and novelty tunes. Here, also, the students showed their appreciation by presenting their directors with gifts.

The last event of the school year for this organization was the playing of "Pomp and Circumstance" at Commencement Exercises.

Camera Club Holds

Discussions on the fine paints and prize-winning photographs played a big part in the Camera Club meetings.

MISS OLIVE LESKOW
Sponsor

April twenty-ninth was a big date for Camera Club members, as it marked the day of their annual dance. Since the club has been in existence for fifteen years now, the dance was appropriately called "Anniversary."

Many of the "shutter-snappers" entered the National Photography Contest, but by far the biggest project was to take pictures of the Photogenic King and Queen candidates. Miss Olive Leskow, the club sponsor, was very happy about the increase in membership, and she hopes for even more members in the coming year.

During the year, members of the club learned to run the complex photograph-enlarging machine.

Photographing the Mr. and Miss Photogenic candidates kept the Camera Club members busy many days after school.

Drama Club

Every Tuesday evening Room 102 was full of excitement. This was generally caused by the members of the Drama Club who were busy auditioning or rehearsing for a new skit or play. When the auditions were over, the members were given copies of their parts to learn. After they learned them, the first rehearsal was called, and they acted them out, improving with time. When the play was well along, the final dress rehearsal was planned. The members then polished the rough spots in their roles and were ready for the performance. This was the big day; those weeks of work finally paid off.

Aside from the actual presentation of the plays, the Drama Club had other things of importance to complete. The new constitution was drawn up and written, and dues were collected.

The Carl Frazen Chapter of the Future Teachers of America was under the sponsorship this year of Mr. Lynn Lowe, our new guidance counselor.

Throughout the year junior and senior members were given the opportunity to receive valuable experience in the field of teaching. The girls substituted for the high school and grade school teachers while they attended meetings or when they arrived late due to bad weather.

At the regular meetings guest teachers were invited to speak to the members about their different fields of teaching. This gave the members an idea of which field they would like to enter.

At Christmas time, a party was given for the members and their escorts.

The Art Club's biggest project this year was the drawing of a mural, depicting biblical scenes, for the school. An honorary member, Emeric Zavada, helped with this mural.

With the coming of Christmas and Easter, the members made corsages which were sold to the students in school.

The club's activities were not all work, however. A party was held at Christmas time and a field trip was taken in the Spring.

Science Club Builds Observatory

This past year the Science Club has been constructing an observatory to be erected atop the new industrial arts building. This observatory will be fitted with a telescope also built by the members of the club.

The Science Club has been quite busy setting up displays for the show case in the main building. You may have been among those fortunate enough to see these displays. Among those in the case, the chemistry division's display on the products of coal and the astronomy division's display of photographs and diagrams of telescopes and planets ranked high.

The members have been attending and sponsoring many fairs also. They have attended the National Science Fair at Indianapolis in May and have sponsored the school science fair held during the month of March.

The Library Club, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Willie Mae Pitts, the new librarian, has aroused students' interest in the reading of good literature by writing book reviews for the school paper and setting up book displays in the showcase.

The members also helped in keeping the new brightly painted library in order and taking care of the newly-acquired materials.

Our new gym, which seats 1,400 cheering fans, has greatly helped Tolleston's school spirit and has given the team the moral support necessary to win. The convenient facilities for practicing enabled our basketball team to distinguish itself again this year with many wins and a second place in the West N. I. H. S. C.

Fighting all the way but not having much luck, our football team played enthusiastically. Although they didn't win all the games, the good sportsmanship displayed will long be remembered.

Our baseball team furnished all opponents with tough competition. Working as a group they presented us with impressive scores.

Tolleston also excelled in two newly-formed teams, tennis and wrestling, this past year. The city champ, Ken Badylak, and our other excellent players gave their opponents a difficult time in tennis competition. The Wrestling Team brought additional honors to Tolleston by being the only team in Gary that was undefeated during the regular season.

Track and X-Country, under new coaching, upheld its good name in all events - - running, jumping, and hurdling.

In whatever sport we enter, Tolleston is known for fair play and good sportsmanship. We are proud of our teams and happy to say they represent our school.

The Blue Raiders opened this year's football campaign with a thrilling 13-12 victory over Wirt. The next four games were lost to Roosevelt, Emerson, Horace Mann, and Hammond Clark respectively. Losing the Valparaiso game, 30-13, was heartbreaking; nevertheless, school spirits were raised by Tolleston's good playing during the second half. The final three games of the season also ended in losses.

Bob Joros and Clyde Cook, co-captains of the team, along with Richard Banas and Ezekiel Barber, were prospects for the All-City team. The Raiders, though winning only one game were all winners in the department of sportsmanship.

This year we have two new teams to carry the name of Tolleston on to victory. They are the tennis team, headed by Coach Belle, and the wrestling team, coached by Mr. Farroh.

The newly formed wrestling team was the only team in Gary that went undefeated during the regular season. Coach Farroh is looking forward to a good season next year as the only team members graduating are Melvin Nelson, Thomas Hill, and Arthur McCleoud.

The tennis team had a slow season, winning four of seven matches. But Coach Belle, like Coach Farroh, is looking forward to a bright season next year with the majority of his players returning.

FIFTH ROW: Charles Gholston, Billy Nance, Edward Tate, Royal Wyatt, Ernest Moore, Jerry Lewis, Albert Mayes, William Irby, and Vernon Flack

When Coach Gonzales took over the reins as head track coach at Tolleston, he set out to make sure that the Raiders would be highly regarded as a state track power. Boys in new blue and gray uniforms could be seen jogging around the school morning and evening.

The new coach was looking to a good season with half of last year's 880 relay team and three-fourths of the mile relay team returning.

Tolleston Finishes Second

Led by Tom "Petey" Patton and Clyde Cook, co-captains, the Blue Raiders enjoyed another prosperous basketball season. Winning fifteen of twenty-one games during the regular season, Tolleston was at one time ranked ninth in the state. The Raiders had a chance to win their first share in a conference championship, but it virtually went up in smoke when they lost to Hammond Tech. leaving the field wide open for East Chicago Washington

Much of this year's success can be accounted to Tolleston's new gymnasium. Both the reserve and the varsity squads had additional time to practice, thus improving their playing.

Tolleston took part in two tournaments this season, the traditional Holiday Tourney and the Elkhart Tourney. During the Holiday Tourney the Raiders easily won the first two games against Horace Mann and Froebel, but the play-off game against Roosevelt resulted in a loss for Tolleston. In the Elkhart Tourney, we won against Fort Wayne S. S., however, a margin of two points caused us to lose the second game against Elkhart.

Graduation will hit the Raiders hard this year, since they will lose four of the five starters. Sidney Gunn, Royal Wyatt, Clyde Cook, and Tom Patton are the players Tolleston wlil miss most next year. In spire of this loss, Coach Joe Vance is looking ahead to a bright future for next year's team.

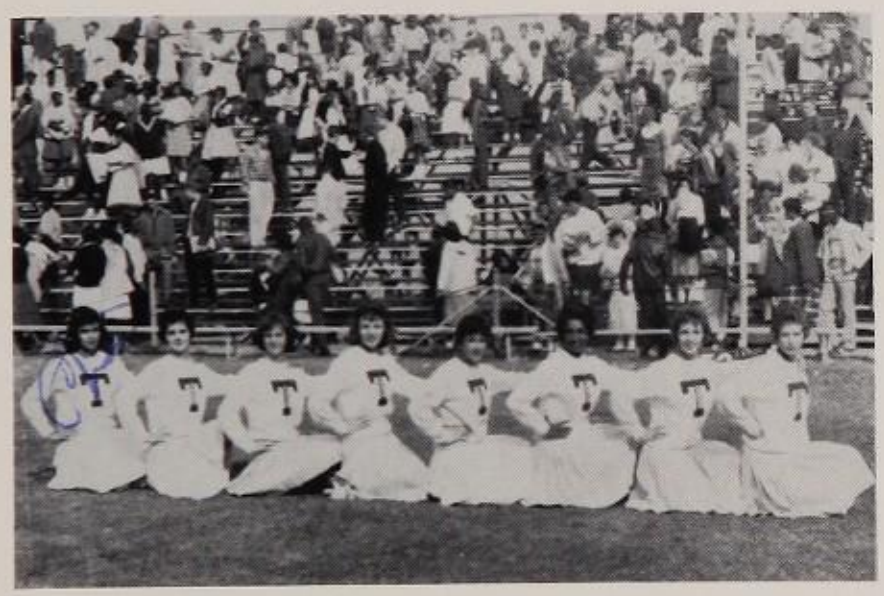
The Tolleston cheerleaders, consisting of one senior and seven juniors, began the football season with a Football-O-Rama dance. As the season progressed, the cheerleaders raised money by selling Tolleston buttons and pennants with the help of Mr. Keseley. As the football season drew to a close, the varsity prepared for the selection of new reserve cheerleader squad.

Attending a cheerleader convention was the most exciting event of the year. Following a basketball game, the cheerleaders piled all their belongings into their sponsor's, Miss Walters, car and headed toward Bowling Green, Ohio. While attending the convention and pep rally, they learned many original and unique cheers and yells.

With the close of basketball season, the cheerleaders concentrated on the replacement of the senior member of the varsity squad.



Cheerleaders pause after an enthusiastic pep session.

New gym provides room for cheerleaders to practice new routines.

The Girls' Athletic Association's members were kept active during the school year attending their annual events - - the Freshman Tea, initiation, hike to Miller, parties, candy selling, and the Christmas Spread, which involved frantic last minute planning and decorating to present the skits.

As you passed the gym after school. the voices of laughing, screaming girls could be heard while they played their team sports in order to earn enough points to attend the G.A.A. Banquet. Long hours of planning and making decorations were spent by the council members to make this special evening, the highlight of the year, something that will never be forgotten. The coming year's council members were announced and installed, awards and letters were presented and the G.A.A. year came to an official end.

Dear Randy,

It's really nice of you to write me during your busy summer. I wish I would of started time. I could of stayed always! I met some nice guys at the beach and a while back I went to the phone. Well because you see them we could of stayed luck in the Chemistry window. I want to take it easy the summer. Here's hoping how we need it. Do the other fellows along time. See you in your space. Do you remember the funny name I called you? Well I'll see you at 12:30 with me to stay home Randy

Love
Betty
